

ADVENTURE!

No doubt about it, we've got our work cut out for us. But it's the greatest adventure that there is; the achievement of Liberty in Our Lifetime! Sure it's a high and difficult mountain we're climbing, but you wouldn't be reading this if you didn't think we could do it.

So where to begin? Well, with others like you of course. There is no greater thrill than to meet people and discover that they are as freedom-loving and desirous for liberty as you are.

Getting the message out about the Free State Project is at the heart of what we do. Here are some of the (but by no means all) ways you can get out the word...

Give Away Stuff

The FSP has lots of brochures, flyers, handouts, and even logo stuff like T-shirts, hats, knives, matchbooks and wooden nickels. You probably have your own ideas so go ahead and make 'em and hand 'em out!

Let Your Voice Be Heard

Political, civic and special interest groups are always looking for speakers. You could start with your local Libertarian Party, but don't stop there! Use your imagination; there are groups that are just waiting for you to tickle their ears!

You Are The Media

Everybody nowadays wants to have their say, and we've got the most important message of all – freedom! Take your pick: call talk radio, write a letter to the editor, post on internet forums, do a blog, create web ads; what the heck, do 'em all!

Chat Someone Up

Call it luck, call it fate, call it probability; some of those you talk to about the FSP will be interested. Unless you are a precog or telepath or get revelation from God, you don't know who, so...

Talk to everybody you meet about the Free State Project!

ROMANCE!

Meet other brave, intelligent and good-looking fellow activists by joining or starting a Local Group or College Group!

Local Groups/College Groups are a little bit of Free State paradise in your own state, country, or school. While you are getting ready to make the move to New Hampshire, band together with like-minded and committed people who have the same goals and vision as you do.

It's true; you are a self-sufficient self-starter who has gone far through your own hard work, courage and skills, but you know you aren't an expert (yet) at everything! It might be nice to have some other Porcupines to watch your back. Remember, the whole is greater than the sum of its parts, or something like that.

Here's what to do in your group (I'm sure you'll think of more):

- Develop friendships that will last for the rest of your life
- Attend local events together and promote the FSP
- Think up new innovative and unique hand-outs and logo materials that inform others about the FSP
- Introduce new participants to the FSP and help them get up to speed
- Eat, drink and party together
- Go to the Porcupine Festival as a group and camp out together
- Get involved in local political activism, both for the sake of liberty and to provide training for when you get to the Free State.

EXCITEMENT!

Libertarian conventions, gun shows, stock car races, music festivals, you name it: these are the places to meet others who might be fed up with burdensome and expensive government nosing into their lives.

Special Events are a great opportunity for you to get out the message about the Free State Project while you are having a good time anyway! Here are some event ideas to try out, but the best ideas are the ones you've already been thinking about, so go for it!

- | | |
|-------------------------|-----------------------------|
| Libertarian conventions | Anti- eminent domain events |
| Tax protests | Van's Warped Tour events |
| Homeschooling events | Machine gun shoots |
| Anti-smoking ban groups | Drug legalization events |

Are you still reading? Good.

Need more info or training, go to www.freestateproject.org/getinvolved/volunteercenter.php or email volunteer@freestateproject.org and you'll get help.

For the sake of our country, our world and humanity itself, we desperately need to succeed, so we are highly motivated to help YOU succeed!

Good luck and we'll see you at the summit!
